Swedish King Gustav V will have new representative in Washington some time in October. He has selected Mr. Eric Boheman who now is in London as the King's Ambassador to the Court of St. James's. It is expected that the newly appointed Ambassador will go back to Stockholm before coming to this country. He is no stranger in Washington for he was here on special mission in 1942 though his work was completed in only a few weeks. And in those days no one travelled unless it was necessary—a wartime provi-sion—so Mme. Boheman did not accompany him.

The retiring Ambassador, Mr. Herman Eriksson came to Washington as Minister in October 1945 succeeding Mr. Wollmar Bostrom who was minister from February 1926 until he retired from the service in 1945. Mr. Eriksson became Sweden's first Ambassador in December of last year but the climate in this country has not agreed with him and most of the time since he became ambassador has been spent in the hospital. However, he has so much improved since he and Mme. Eriksson went home that he Prominent Service Families has been transferred to Copenhagen.

Weddings Here And Out of City Claim Interest Miss Harrington Becomes Bride; Miss Kidder Wed

Of much interest to society in the Capital is the wedding yesterday afternoon of Miss Mary Eleanor Harrington, daughter of the late Col. Francis Clark Harrington and Mrs. Harrington, to Mr. Robert Beattie Congdon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cary Congdon of New London, Conn.

The bride is the niese of Mrs. William Stuart Revburn and the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John E. Reyburn of Washington. She is the great-niece of Mrs.

William Crozier, also of this city.
The marriage of Miss Harrington and Mr. Congdon took place in the Pequot Chapel of New London at :30 o'clock. A reception followed and receiving with the newlyweds was Mrs. Reyburn, the bride's aunt. The bride was escorted by her cousin, Mr. Maury Reyburn. With her beautiful white satin gown, she wore an heirloom veil of Brussels lace, and the marriage service was read from an ivory prayerbook used by her mother and her grandmother. Miss Polly Hoyt of Buffalo was the maid of honor and the brides-maids were the Misses Joan Pyne of Newport, Albert Legare of Washington, and Diane Johnson and Suzanne Cook of New London. Lydia Crane Harrington was her aunt's flower girl.

Mr. Cary Congdon was his brother's best man and the ushers were the Messrs. Thomas Congdon, Richard Moran, Donald MacArthur and Robert Johnson, all of New
